

EASTER SEASON TO BE VERY GAY

Many Prominent Weddings Are Scheduled for the Season—Interesting Announcements.

MANY EASTER GERMANS

Floral Carnival Opens This Week.
Egg Hunts for Juveniles.

Epitome.

A rose leaf breaking through the earth,
A bird's nest suddenly filled with mirth, A heart with joy of beating life—
And this is all we know of life.

A rosebud's fragrant blossoming, An early bird-call in the spring,
A heart in tune with flower and dove—
And this is all we know of love.

—Charlotte Becker, in Ainslee's.

The Easter Season.

The Easter season, always one of the most delightful of the whole year, is ushered in this April with unusual promise of gaiety for social circles.

The weddings and announcements having to do with the season, are sufficient, by reason of their number and importance, to render the outlook one of much interest for society in general.

The Germans, dances, card parties, luncheons, ante-nuptial and post-nuptial entertainments will render the stay of young ladies and gentlemen, returning from various educational institutions for the Easter holidays, a constant round of pleasure during their visit to Richmond, and will make the city gay for those personally and otherwise interested in wedding celebrations.

Richmond juveniles always have a good time at Easter for egg-hunts abound, home-made candy is freely offered for sale, and the little people are cordially invited by their elders to hunt and to purchase. The wild excitement of the hunt, and of filling baskets with eggs, the awarding of prizes to the child who has the most eggs, always holds out an irresistible appeal to the childish heart.

The beautiful Easter service in churches, fragrant with flowers and filled with the joyous strains of Easter music, will be followed by the Easter procession, always a charming feature of Easter day.
The girls blossom out like flowers in their pretty spring hats and gowns; their smiling faces match their pretty tulle, and compare favorably with their corsage bouquets of lilies of the valley, violets, white lilacs and American Beauties.

After the comparative quiet and inactivity of Lent, the brightness and animation of the scene reminds one of the chrysalis developing into the butterfly, and symbolizing the lesson of the resurrection in nature and in life, which underlies all the joy and the blessing of Easter Sunday.

New York city, assisted by the Rev.
Francis Lane and the Rev. John Douglass, of Martinsburg.

WEDDINGS OF LAST WEEK.

Jones—Washer.

Among the interesting weddings of last week was that of Miss Bertha Miriam Washer, daughter of Alderman and Mrs.
Louis Washer, to Mr. Calvin P. Jones, of Smithfield, Va., which took place Thursday evening, April 12th, at 6 o'clock, in the Third Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. R. B. Eggleston officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated, the altar being banked with a profusion of palms. Professor Ernest Conby presided at the organ playing softly throughout the ceremony.

Miss May Washer attended her sister as maid of honor and Mr. Albert Sydney Johnson, of Isle of Wight county, was best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Jones, of Smithfield, Va.; Misses Anna Gayle, Sallie Witte and Lilla Nelson, all of Richmond. The following were the ushers: Messrs. Linwood Schweikert, Horace Christian, William S. Ligon, of Petersburg, and Louis Washer, Jr., of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore an exquisite gown of white crepe de chine, made in princess and trimmed in old lace and hand embroidery. Her tulle veil was caught with a pearl brooch, the gift of the groom, and she also wore a necklace of the same jewels.
Her flowers were lilies of the valley.
The maid of honor was gowned in white net over Nile green taffeta and carried a bouquet of white roses, tied with white tulle. The bridesmaids wore white net over cream taffeta and carried bouquets of maiden-hair asparagus fern, tied with green tulle.

The bride entertained the attendants on Wednesday evening before going to the church for rehearsal. The gifts were unusually handsome, including cut glass, silver and ivory trousseau. After an extended tour of the Northern States and Canada Mr. and Mrs. Jones will live in Smithfield, Va., where the groom is engaged in a prosperous business.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. V. W. Joyner and Miss Mary Joyner, Mrs. C. H. Hart, Mr. A. V. Davis, of of Smithfield; Captain Albert S. Johnson, of Isle of Wight county; Miss Virginia Dewey, of Norfolk; Mr. A. Witte, of Ohio, and Mr. Wilson Jones, of New York.

Annual Donation Day.

The following appeal is made by Mrs.
Andrew J. Montague in behalf of the Home for Needy Confederate Women.

Mrs. Montague says:
"Tuesday next, April 17th, is the semi-annual donation day at the Home for Needy Confederate Women, and because of the fact that the last donation day was passed by, Richmond people will have an opportunity for the first time in more than a year to contribute to the needs of the Home, which are urgent at this time. Sickness and enfeebled old age make insistent demands that require constant effort and energy to meet.

"The president and ladies of the Board of Managers, realizing their responsibilities, make a strong appeal to the Richmond public, ever mindful of such calls, and ever ready to respond in generous fashion. Fuel, money, groceries and household stores of all descriptions will be thankfully received. A committee of ladies to receive contributions will be at the Home throughout the day."

(Signed) "MRS. A. J. MONTAGUE, "President Home for Needy Confederate Women."
